Torii

Coffee tables

Design by LATOxLATO

The Torii collection stems from the idea of a single formal gesture: a sinuous, curved leg, a distinctive feature that defines the identity of the entire series.

Made of curved wood, the leg develops as a continuous line that supports and embraces the top, giving the coffee table a balance between lightness and structural strength.

Starting from this common element, the collection is available in different heights and sizes, transforming into Low coffee table, Side table, and Side table.

The modularity of the height allows for the creation of dynamic and harmonious compositions: the different elements can coexist in the same environment, communicating through the repetition of the curved shape which, while varying in proportion, maintains an elegant and contemporary visual consistency.

Tholos

Torii

Bench

Design by LATOxLATO

The Torii bench stems from the same formal research that gave rise to the collection: a single soft, continuous gesture generates the curved wooden leg, a structural and identifying element of the entire project.

This leg, made of steam-bent solid wood, stands out for its fluid silhouette that supports the seat with natural elegance, as if it were an organic extension of the top.

The bench is composed of a modular repetition of this curved leg: each additional element lengthens its shape and defines its size. In this way, the bench can be freely adapted to different living contexts — from the entrance to the dining area, from the living room to the bedroom — while maintaining a strong aesthetic consistency.

The seat is upholstered and covered in natural fabrics or leathers, for discreet and refined comfort that dialogues with the wooden structure. The contrast between the softness of the upholstery and the solidity of the curved leg creates a visual and tactile balance that invites use and contemplation.

Available in several lengths and finishes, the 'Torii' bench interprets the theme of modularity with grace and functionality, blending craftsmanship and contemporary design in a single coherent gesture.
